Water Mills

Y Felin

Y Felin, St. Dogmaels, Cardigan

The water mill at Y-Felin was documented in 1640. It continued as a working mill until 1961 when it fell into disrepair. The millpond and mill have been restored and the pond was re-flooded in 1981 to allow the mil to work again.

The mill has tea rooms and produces a large range of flour and grain products. There is also accommodation available.

I have not visited this mill, but it is on my list of places to visit when I am next in this part of Wales.
